Mark Bailey & Dr. John Bevan-Smith

“Everything turns on these two concepts :absence and presence.

Of what is SARS-CoV-2 predicated:

absence or presence? That is the question we must must decide.”

“For without the instantiated presence of SARS-CoV-2 there are no COVID-19 cases to count, and therefore no ground or justification for any government’s response to a phantom pandemic.”

“Some apparent health freedom advocates who have captured the attention of huge audiences are, wittingly or not, doing the bidding of the biosecurity state. By maintaining and heightening the fear factor of the gain-of-function bogeyman, these influencers are creating fertile ground for future psychological ‘terror’ campaigns.”
